The Registrar shall submit any corrections or updates from a Registrant relating to the registration information for a Registered Name to the Registry in a timely manner.
- 2.6 Registrar's Registration Agreement and Domain Name Dispute Policy. The Registrar shall have in effect an electronic or paper registration agreement with each Registrant, which may be amended from time to time by the Registrar, which shall at all times include, subject to applicable law, the terms of the Registrant Agreement and Registry Policies included above. The Registrar shall provide the Registry with a copy of the Registrar's registration agreement upon request. The Registrar shall include in its registration agreement those terms required by this Agreement, other terms that are consistent with the Registrar's obligations to the Registry under this Agreement, and the consent of each registrant for the collection and use of their personal data by the Registry for such purposes as the Registry is required contractually to use the data. The Registrar shall employ in its domain name registration agreement a requirement for registrants to submit to the it.com Dispute Resolution Policy, and the Inter-Registrar Transfer Policy, each in their most recent form and each as may be amended from time to time.

2.7 In its registration agreement with each Registrant, the Registrar shall require such Registrant to:

- (i) acknowledge and agree that the Registry reserves the right to deny, cancel, or transfer any registration or transaction, or place any domain name(s) on registry lock, hold, or similar status as it deems necessary, in its unlimited and sole discretion: (1) to comply with specifications adopted by any industry group generally recognized as authoritative with respect to the Internet (e.g. RFCs); (2) to correct mistakes made by the Registry or any Registrar in connection with a domain name registration; (3) if required by an it.com Dispute Resolution Process; or (4) for the non-payment of fees to the Registry;

The Registrar agrees to develop and employ in its domain name registration business all necessary technology, procedures, processes, and restrictions to ensure that its connection to the SRS is secure. All data exchanged between the Registrar's system and the SRS shall be protected to avoid unintended disclosure of information. The Registrar shall employ commercially reasonable measures to prevent its access to the Registry System granted hereunder from being used to: (1) allow, enable, or otherwise support the transmission by email, telephone, or facsimile of mass unsolicited advertising or solicitations to persons or entities other than its own existing customers; or (2) enable high volume, automated, electronic processes that send queries or data to the systems of the Registry, except as reasonably necessary to register domain names or modify existing registrations.

Upon prior written notification to the Registrar, the Registry may require other industry standard security provisions, practices, or technology to ensure that the Registry System is secure and stable, which the Registry may adopt from time to time in its sole and complete discretion. In the event that the Registrar does not comply with the Registry standards, the Registry will provide the Registrar a 30 (thirty) days' notice to inform the Registrar of the need to either correct non-compliance or agree on a mutually acceptable plan with Registry to correct non-compliance, and the time period in which such plan must be completed.
